

AUTOMOBILE RACE FOR THE ASTOR CUP

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 9.—The automobile racing game was revived here today when the most famous drivers in the world clashed in the 350 mile race for the Vincent Astor silver trophy—and $50,000 in cash prizes—on the new sheephead Bay Speedway.

The race today marked the formal opening of the new track, the fastest of its kind in the world, and it seemed a certainty when the racers chugged up to the starting line that every speed record from one mile to 350 would be fractured.

The postponement of a week in the running of the race, due to inclement weather on last Saturday, the original date for the classic, enabled the pilots to indulge in many additional workouts during the week, and every man who entered the race today freely predicted that the victor would have to maintain an average of from 105 miles to 110 miles an hour.

Dario Resta, whose practice trials fractured existing records up to ten miles, was the favorite, with Ralph De Palma second choice, and Barney Oldfield, Bob Burman and Ralph Mulford neck and neck for third choice. Resta's car, a Peugeot, is the last thing in automobile construction. It is regarded as the fastest racing car in the world, and the speed of the car, coupled with Resta's daring as a driver, made it look as if he would win, barring accidents.

The promoters of the race claimed that the crowd would number at least 75,000 and might go to 90,000. The seating capacity of the stands is 75,000 and there is parking space in the enclosure for 20,000 cars, which, averaging five persons to a car, would make the capacity of the track 175,000.

Nearly 50,000 tickets had been sold up to last night, according to the officials, and parking space reserved for nearly 7,000 automobiles. Most of the drivers were out early today and the clockers caught the majority of them doing the oval (2 miles) at an average around 104 miles an hour.

The race today was the first big automobile event that has been staged in the east in many years. The Vanderbilt Cup races which were held on Long Island in the old days were won by times absurdly slow as compared with the speed that was possible on the track today.

The winner of the event will be given temporary possession of the Astor Cup. This is to be contested for each year for five years and in 1920 the cup becomes the permanent property of the racer who has scored the most points.

In addition to the cup there were twelve cash prizes. The award for the winner was $20,000; second place, $10,000; third place, $5,000; fourth, $4,000; fifth $3,000; sixth, $2,000; seventh, $1,400; eighth, $1,200; ninth, $1,100; tenth, $1,000; eleventh, $800; twelfth, $500.

TEUTONS CAPTURE SERBIAN CAPITAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 9.—Belgrade, former capital of Serbia, is reported in dispatches from Amsterdam to have been captured by the German and Austro-Hungarian army of invasion.

Battles continue on Serb soil all along the Danube, Save and Drina fronts.

The Serb army, officered by French and British and furnished with guns by the allies, is vigorously contesting every step of the Teutonic advance.

Dispatches from Berlin and Nish indicate that so far only the advance guards of the opposing armies have clashed and that the main armies have not yet come to grips. Strong lines of forts have been constructed by the Serbs under the guidance of British and French engineers, in the mountains and these must be stormed before the Teutons can advance into the interior of Serbia.

It is admitted by the Serbian war office that the Teutonic armies of invasion have effected five crossings of the rivers forming the northern and northwestern boundaries of Serbia, but the gaining of a foothold on Serb territory has cost the Germans and Austrians severely.

Berlin reports "satisfactory progress" for the armies of invasion in the Balkan theater, while Vienna claims that Serbian counter attacks were all repulsed.

Military experts in writing of the great offensive in the Balkans raise these questions:

Is the Serbian invasion to be the counterpart of the German advance through Belgium?

Is the Austro-German drive toward Nish, the Serb capital, to afford a parallel with the case of Brussels?

As was the case of Belgium, stern resistance is being made by the army of the Serb kingdom, but in Serbia, every man is a soldier. Belgium is laced with railway lines and dotted with towns and cities; Serbia is a wild mountainous country, thinly populated and already scarred by warfare. There are few railways in Serbia and the mountain highways are narrow, poorly made and unusually impassable by reason of deep mud. Brussels is a modern city with a population of a quarter of a million. In addition to its twentieth century buildings it has many ancient structures whose history is part of the history of the progress of civilization in Europe.

Nish is a medieval town most of whose buildings are old and dilapidated. It is inhabited mostly by 22,000. The population is less than 22,000. The Belgian authorities voluntarily gave up Brussels, but Nish would probably stand out to the last.

The Austro-German soldiers that have reached Belgrade still have to go 130 miles before they reach Nish and in the meantime they must fight their way across barren wastes, meeting resistance at every turn from the Serbs and allies entrenched in the mountains.

ECKERTS RECONCILED.
Straying Husband Returns and Promises to be Good.

Peter J. Eckert of No. 70 Hunter street, who was arrested on Friday on a charge of non-support preferred against him by his wife, was arraigned in recorder's court this morning and informed Recorder Lang that he and his wife had become united and that he was now staying at home with her and expected to support his family. Eckert on Friday furnished bail in the sum of $400 for his appearance on court this morning and Recorder Lang informed him that the case would be held open for just one week to see if Eckert and his wife could agree and that next Saturday both should appear before him when the final disposition would be made of the case. The bail bond was continued for a week. The story in detail was told in The Freeman on Friday.

Francis Simpkins of Woodstock, was arrested on Friday afternoon for driving his automobile truck on the wrong side of the street. The arrest was made by Policeman Post. This morning Simpkins pleaded guilty and was fined $3 which he paid.

Joseph Steinhilber, who is no stranger in court, was arrested by Policeman P. J. White on Friday afternoon for public intoxication. Joe was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

Edward Denke, another old offender, was arrested on the same charge by Policeman Healey. This morning Recorder Lang sentenced Denke to three months in the county jail. Denke is well acquainted with the county jail and has served time there for breaking jail while serving a sentence on a charge of stealing chickens.

Bids for Lackawack Road.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Oct. 9.—State Highway Commissioner Edwin Duffley will open bids on October 26 for the construction of Road No. 503, Napaoch-Montela, Ulster county, ten miles and a fraction miles in length. Upon the same date bids will be opened for the construction of twenty-nine other highways in twenty different counties. Over one hundred miles of construction work will be awarded as the result of the bidding.

PROBABLE LINE-UP FOR TODAY'S GAME

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—The terrible bloodless battle for the possession of world championship was renewed here today, despite the extreme frigidity of the weather.

Field Marshal Bill Von Carrigan, veteran hero of the American League campaign, undaunted by the repulse of his red-bosomed warriors yesterday, rallied his forces, armed them with a new feeling of confidence and determination and led them in another attack on the entrenched forces of General Moran's army.

Early in the battle Von Carrigan moved into position his big siege guns—Speaker, Hooper, Lewis and Hobitzel—charged them with rebuffs for yesterday's failure to smash the Phillies defenses and made early threats that his big guns would batter away to victory before sunset tonight.

Moran, whose 42-centimeter gun "Cactus" Cravath, seemed to be out of action yesterday, threw up the machine just before the conical and loaded it with orders to batter down the fences.

Both commanders however, were secretive concerning their choice for the bomb-throwing jobs.

Von Carrigan, according to early unofficial reports, was in doubt between "Dutch" Leonard, a left-hander and George Foster, who hurled starboard side bombs.

Moran also was in a quandary, not knowing early in the day whether to choose Eppa Jappa Ripkey, known as the human tenpin hairpin who flings left-handed bombs or George Chalmers, whose right-handed bomb heaving has created considerable havoc in the ranks of the other Phillie enemies.

Just before the battle began General Moran said:

"Those there Boston birds they got a lot of nerve, ain't they? The very idea of them invading our territory! We showed 'em yesterday just how we feel about their stunt of tramping on our sacred soil. We threw 'em back, didn't we? Well, if this artillery of mine does its usual work we'll throw 'em back still farther before tonight. Then we'll chase 'em right into Massachusetts and no our darndest to give 'em two decisive beatings there, so as to stop them from annoying us Pennsylvanians further by their obnoxious presence."

Field Marshal Von Carrigan, learning of the above remarks, through an interpreter, remarked: "Foolie, phooie! Our defeat yesterday was a mere nothing. We will even up things before tonight, then for national commission reasons we'll retreat to our own country. We'll battle the enemy there twice, and beat them twice—and then we'll drive them back here and give them the final beating right on their own soil."

The probable batting order:

No Baseball Report Today.

The Freeman will not wait for a report from the baseball game this afternoon, as it did on Friday and may do next week. The game today will not be decisive and the local fans will find plenty of places where the results are bulletined.

Mrs. Oak's Engagement Ring.

Aboard the president's train, Man-hattan Transfer, N. J. Oct. 9.—President Wilson today placed upon the finger of his fiancée Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt the engagement ring that seals their betrothal. It is a magnificent diamond solitaire. The ring was bought in the establishment of a Fifth Avenue jeweler. It was in New York yesterday, presumably bridge and kept there today. American jewelry, the president's fiancée was warned not to go to Juarez.

WILSON AND FIANCEE TO SEE BALL GAME

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 9.—President Woodrow Wilson and his bride-to-be, Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, left New York today for Philadelphia after a twenty hours visit during which the beauty of the future "first lady of the land" won the hearts of all who saw her.

Both the president and the future mistress of the White House showed their happiness as they departed to go to the scene of the baseball championship battle. A motoring trip consumed all their spare time here this morning and no shopping was done.

The visit of the couple to New York passed without any untoward incident and just before the train to which his private car was attached pulled out President Wilson sent a message of thanks to the police department for the excellent care.

The president's motor car arrived at the Pennsylvania station at 10:45 o'clock, after a spin of about 20 miles along Fifth avenue, through Central Park and up Riverside Drive.

At 109th street and Riverside Drive President Wilson's car was met by a secret service man, who carefully brushed it off as the president and Mrs. Galt laughed. Then the president jammed it down on his head and the ride went on.

The party was recognized several times by small groups and the president and Mrs. Galt smiled in response to the cheers that were given. At the station other members of the party that came from Washington yesterday joined the engaged pair and they entered the private car to take the trip to Philadelphia.

LOCAL MEN GOING TO STATE CONFERENCE

Great preparations are being made for the state Y. M. C. A. conference at Rochester, November 26 to 28.

All organizations doing Christian work for boys are invited to send delegates. It is expected that the people of Rochester will entertain 2,250 boys during the conference.

Any boy over 15 years of age of good Christian character and who conforms to the highest standards of conduct will be accepted as a delegate. Among the speakers for the conference are the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, of the Vine Theological Seminary, Dr. John A. Holt, the Rev. A. W. Beaver of Rochester, and David R. Pester of the International Y. M. C. A. committee.

I. H. Merce, of New York city will lead the singing. The object of the conference is two fold. First to inspire individual older boys and men workers with boys to prosecute the extension of Christianity among boys more vigorously and intelligently, and second, through the delegates to stimulate the organization which they represent to embark upon a new crusade in behalf of the boyhood of the state, nation and the world.

In some cities the churches are raising money to pay the entire expense of the delegates while others are paying one-half and the remainder to be paid by the delegate. It is desirable, in most cases, to have the delegates to pay part of the expense. The local Y. M. C. A. will take a delegation to the conference in charge of Boys' Work Secretary H. D. Every, assisted by a corps of able leaders. Further information may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A.

Villa Troops Loot Saloons.

El Paso, Oct. 9.—Villa troops looted all the saloons in Juarez during the night and indulged in the wildest orgy that has occurred in the Mexican town since it was captured by the Huertistas. General Villa attempted to restore order, but his commands were unheeded. Extra guards were placed at the United States end of the international railway bridge and kept there today. American troops were warned not to go to Juarez.

PUMPKIN SHOW AT ULSTER PARK

The school children of the town of Esopus exhibited pumpkins Friday under the rules of the Cornell Agricultural College. This is the third town exhibit held in the Second Supervisory District under District Superintendent John U. Gillette.

The children from various schools began to assemble at the Grange Hall at 9 o'clock in the morning. Accommodations were made to the crowd until twelve o'clock. Automobile stages ran from Port Ewen to Ulster Park and return.

Each pupil had made a selection of three pumpkins from the number he had grown, the seed for planting having been furnished by the Ulster Park Grange, George E. House, representing it. The Grange had also contributed $10 in cash prizes. The school children were accompanied by nearly all cases by their teachers, and many parents. They came in wagons from Monticue, Rifton, St. Remy, New Salem, Connelly, Port Ewen, Coppelstown, West Park, West Park, May Park and Esopus. Port Ewen contributed a two horse wagon load.

The Grange also had exhibits of their own at the same place. There was school work consisting of penmanship, arithmetic, raffle work, wood work, map drawing and water colors. The work was admired by about 300 people. The judging was a difficult task owing to the sharp competition and the magnitude of the exhibits.

At 2 o'clock the judges consisting of E. W. Hathaway, Leslie Herring and Harold V. Story reported their decisions as follows:

Rosella Freer, first prize, $5; Beatrice Polhemus, second prize, $3; Margaret Davis, third prize, $2.

SHORT MEASURE IN SALE OF GASOLINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Oct. 9.—John F. Farrell, state superintendent of weights and measures, has taken up the battle of the automobilists in the state to secure full measures in gasoline from pumps.

For the past few months complaints have been pouring in against short measure in gasoline from pumps to the department of weights and measures and investigations have been made by Superintendent Farrell.

"The department has obtained three or four convictions of persons who pumps had been condemned and ordered discontinued," says Superintendent Farrell. "Upon causing the shops where these pumps were used to be revisited, it was found that they were working again even though the tags of this department condemning them were attached. This is a condition which should not exist in any part of the state."

Superintendent Farrell points out that the best way to determine accurately whether a full measure of gasoline has been supplied is for all motorists to have their gas tanks measured and to cause dealers with whom they do business to keep a tested liquid gallon, half gallon and quart measures. If this cannot be accomplished a tested yard stick should be carried by the motorist who can thus measure the amount of gasoline purchased.

The law covering the sale of gasoline prescribes the gasoline when sold in containers, must be sold by the standard measure and the container shall be plainly and conspicuously marked. A variation of three per cent will be permitted, however.

Another section of the statute in question sets forth that when gasoline is pumped or poured into the tank of an automobile, motor boat or in any other tank, showing the full amount delivered must be given to the purchaser.

Early during the present automobile season, Superintendent Farrell sent out a warning to many automobile clubs to the effect that they should insist upon the observance of the section of the weights and measures law bearing upon the sale of gasoline. "For your protection," the letter ran, "you should insist upon the dealers obeying the law in this regard as well as in regard to marking the amount of contents of all containers of oil, auto-soap, etc. Violations of the law should at once be reported to this department."

What appears to be one of the chief reasons why motorists do not avail themselves of the full amount of gas as purchased, is that when the pump handle is used a full revolution of the handle is not made. Superintendent Farrell says that purchasers of gasoline should insist that a full revolution of the pump handle be made to cause a complete revolution.

Because of the limited number of inspectors in his department, it has been impossible for the state superintendent of weights and measures to have them visit all of the gasoline vending pumps. He feels that the automobile clubs should assist in the work of honest measure by compelling gasoline dealers to observe the law which is plainly defined.

Friday was the first day of registration in Kingston and 1,718 voters took the opportunity to register. This evening the polls will be kept open until 10 o'clock. There are only two more days of registration to be held. They are Friday and Saturday of next week. If a voter is not registered he will not be allowed to vote at the fall election in November.

The registration of Friday according to figures reported to police headquarters follow:

Effort to Open Dardanelles.

Athens, Oct. 9.—A great effort to open the Dardanelles before the Turks can secure aid from the Austro-German forces is under way. A series of explosions against the Turkish positions on both sides of the Dardanelles has been commenced by British and French warships. Infantry fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula is increasing in violence.

U. S. Steel Orders.

New York, Oct. 9.—The U. S. Steel Corporation today reported unfilled orders as of September 30 of 5,357,618 tons, compared with 4,308,455 tons on August 31 last, and 3,787,667 tons on September 30, 1914.

BRIDGE PLANS IN THREE WEEKS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 9.—Trading at the opening of the stock market today was brisk with the railroad stocks attracting most of the speculative interest, moving up to a new high range for the year. Reading, Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania made gains at the start, but later receded. Reading opened 1/4 higher at 162 1/2, but was in free supply and dropped to 161 1/4. Lehigh Valley rose 1/2 to 153 1/2, followed by a reaction to 152 1/2. Baltimore & Ohio rose 1 1/2 to 93 and Southern Pacific 1 1/2 to 97. Union Pacific advanced a point to 114, a new high point for the year, and Atchafalaya 1 1/2 to 134 1/2, reacted to 131 1/2, followed by a rise to 133. Crucible Steel started 2 points higher at 82 1/2 and then yielded to 89 1/2. New Haven rose 1 1/2 to 79 1/2, followed by a reaction to 79. Bethlehem Steel started five points higher at 44 1/2.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; others strong.

Runaway Boy Found.
Frank, the fifteen year old son of Louis Kovacs of East Kingston, who ran away from home some time ago, was picked up by Middletown police on Friday evening. The chief of police of Middletown took up the matter with Chief Wood this morning. The boy's father who works on Mooney's brickyard at East Kingston was notified and Deputy Sheriff Michael McCullough will leave for Middletown today for the boy.

Steamer Badly Damaged.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 9.—The British steamer Barbara arrived here today from New York, badly damaged by fire and gales. On Bermuda she ran into storms and her bow plates and steering gear were damaged. Fire started in the bunkers, but was extinguished. Part of her cargo was jettisoned.

VILLA MAKES ANOTHER OFFER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 9.—General Francisco Villa today is going to make his final and most desperate effort to prevent Venustiano Carranza from being recognized by the United States. Through his confidential agent here, Villa is going to send word to Secretary of State Lansing and the Latin-American envoys as soon as they convene in Secretary Lansing's office this afternoon, that he and all his chiefs will step down and out in Mexico after a peace conference, asked by those envoys two months ago is held, and if recognition is denied Carranza.

Just what effect Villa's eleventh hour stand will have is problematical. Secretary Lansing has indicated that he believes definite action should be taken at once in Mexican affairs. As Carranza apparently controls the situation, it is thought that Secretary Lansing will favor extending recognition to him.

Most of Villa's chiefs are here today. It is expected they will appear before the conference.

The Latin-American diplomats who will meet with Secretary Lansing today are Ambassador Naon of Argentina, Suarez of Chile, and Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers De Pena of Uruguay, Calderon of Bolivia and Mendez of Guatemala.

Balsam Mountain Tower.

Albany, Oct. 9.—An all steel mountain observation station in the forest service has just been completed, according to the report of District Forest Ranger Todd made to the commission today. The tower is on Balsam Lake mountain in Ulster county, is forty feet high, and was constructed at a cost of $135.

Twenty-five dollars of this amount was donated by George J. Gould of New York city, who owns considerable forest land within the range of the station. The erection was done almost entirely by the forest rangers. The value of the steel towers on mountain stations has long been appreciated by the commission and as soon as the necessary money is available, steel towers will be substituted for the unsteady wooden structures now in use.

BANDITS MISSED $1,000,000

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington Oct. 9.—Chief Inspector Gregory of the postoffice department announced today that the $1,000,000 in federal reserve notes which was on the train near Central, West Va., yesterday, is safe.

He declared that the bandits overlooked the notes. Postoffice officials early today said the robbers did not get more than $100,000.

Three coaches, containing 150 pieces of registered mail, were opened by the bandits, but only ninety pieces were taken, according to postoffice reports. It is believed by officials that there were some national bank notes in the mail, but so far as is known here there were no "set shipments" of a large quantity.

Postoffice department officials now are checking up the mail records to determine just what was taken. No official reports on the robbery have yet come either to the comptroller of the currency or the federal reserve board.

Officials of the federal reserve board refused to give out any information concerning the $1,000,000 in federal reserve notes beyond saying they were safe. It is believed the notes were in the mail sacks passed up by the bandits. The money, it is understood, was being shipped to federal reserve banks in the west.

Women's Gym Work Resumed.

Thursday marked the resumption of gymnasium classes for girls and women at the Y. M. C. A. and in order to afford many others an opportunity to avail themselves of the advantages derived from the work it has been decided to reduce the membership fee from $1.50 to 75 cents for the term from October 7 to January 1 of next year. Already over 225 girls and women have joined the classes. Each Thursday the association is turned over to the women and three classes are held during the day. The first class at 10 o'clock in the morning is in charge of Mrs. Harry Winne. The 4 o'clock class is in charge of Miss Ruth Siegle, and the evening class at 7:30 is in charge of Mrs. E. E. Fessenden. The privileges extended to the members of the classes include the gymnasium, swimming pool and the bowling alleys. This reduced rate is offered so that any more girls and women may be able to enjoy the privileges of the association.

WATER WAGON STARTS ON TRIP

The members of the county committee of the Prohibition party met at the court house Friday at 1 p. m. The chairman, John L. Schultz, called the meeting to order, and the Rev. P. N. Chase acted as secretary. Prayer was offered by the Rev. E. O. Schwitters of High Falls. A fairly good number responded to the roll call. Where there had been a failure to elect at the primary, the vacancies were filled. The chairman made the following brief report:

"As county chairman I beg leave to submit the following report:

"We meet here to perform the duties devolving upon us as a party to conform to the election laws of the state. We have met together as a party opposed to the legalizing of the liquor traffic. For many years you have honored me with the office of county chairman, not probably for my efficiency—more likely on account of my age and willingness to serve. Now as our party among the others we stand for a principle and at present we are the only party with a prohibition plank in our party platform, but others are coming.

In the state of Massachusetts the great Mr. Shaw at the head of the Christian Endeavor Society is stumping his state for the office of governor. Such a thing as a man at the head of a great Christian Society would not have been thought of a few years ago. The Hon. W. J. Bryan who has a long time been before the people as a politician speaks out his opinion and favor the outlawing of the liquor traffic. In our own state we have the prospect of being represented in the legislature next winter. Our faithful secretary, Dr. P. N. Chase, has kept busy and obtained a large number of subscribers to prohibition papers. It is hard work it seems to be the only way to get subscribers. We should be proud of his work.

"Let us all continue to work, stand firm and we will command respect of the good people of the country."

The treasurer reported that the strong box was not empty. With subscriptions secured at the meeting the secretary has obtained nearly 200 subscribers to the "Patriot Phalanx," a new national prohibition paper.

The First Assembly delegates elected as follows: Chairman, Lorenzo Short; vice chairman, B. F. Fellows and the Rev. D. N. F. Blakeney; secretary and treasurer, Frank S. Hyatt. The Second Assembly district delegates elected as follows: Chairman, John Herring; vice chairman, Verner Marks and Edward A. Smiley, secretary and treasurer, the Rev. W. H. Seiple.

EXPRESS TRAIN STRIKES A LOCAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Lynchburg, Va., Oct. 9.—One man was killed, another seriously injured and eight or ten passengers slightly bruised in a head on collision between northbound express train No. 38 and southbound local train No. 19 on the Southern Railway at Arlington just north of here early today.

P. O. Hughes, baggage master, of Lynchburg, was killed. The seriously injured was a negro. The injured passengers were on the express train. No passengers on the local train were hurt.

The injured were brought to Lynchburg. It is believed the wreck was due to a mistake in signals. The express, which is a crack train between New Orleans and New York, was behind time and was making great speed in an effort to make up its schedule.

"Mudhens" Says "Smoky Joe".

Philadelphia Oct. 9.—"Mudhens—that is what I call them," said "Smoky" Joe Wood, the Boston Red Sox pitcher, commenting on the victory of the Phillies in the initial game of the world series. "That ground was in awful condition and the Phillies seemed fairly to revel in that mud and sand. But the Red Sox are not the least bit discouraged and I believe we will yet show them that we are the best team."

Where Shelley Was Drowned.

Spezia, the principal naval station of Italy, and about fifty miles southeast of Genoa, described as "the Portsmouth of Italy," has interesting literary associations. It calls up memories of Byron, Shelley, Leigh Hunt, Charles Lever and Mary Somerville. Lever was in residence at Spezia intermittently for some years, and there wrote three of his books. But a more tragic interest is attached to the magnificent bay, for it will be recollected that it was while sailing in a new boat across the Gulf to his home at Lerici that Shelley was drowned.

Musical Note.

"What opera did you hear last night?"
"Cecil had the program, and he said it was Libretto."
"How amusing!"
"Yes, wasn't it? Because it really wasn't Libretto at all."—Harvard Lampoon.

Bullets and Snow.

To test the penetration of rifle shots snow walls six feet six inches thick were erected in Angillac, France. Rifles were fired at a distance of fifty-five yards. In each case the ball was stopped at a penetration of five and a half feet.

Rest Assured

If there is any one thing that should be above criticism, it's a monument. Above all the design should be in good taste. The lettering must be well done and of course the stone itself must be of a kind that will not deteriorate or discolor. Such is the kind we make and sell.

KINGSTON, N. Y., OCT. 9, 1915.

Women have voted for many years in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho, and more recently in Arizona, California, Illinois, Kansas, Montana, Nevada and Oregon. Anybody who has traveled in those States or who has friends able to give him reliable information on the subject knows that conditions of all kinds are the same or worse there than in States where only men vote. In none of the matters in which women are supposed to be especially interested has their vote led to any improvement. The excise laws are inferior in all of them to the New York law. So are the gambling laws. So are the divorce laws, unless one believes in divorces being sold over the counter while you wait. In none of these equal suffrage States are the property laws more favorable to women than they are in New York, and in most of them—Colorado particularly—women have fewer rights of this kind than in New York. Then why should we try in the Empire State an experiment which has been a uniform failure elsewhere? No decent man wants his wife, mother or sister to run around a block a thousand times and make a public spectacle of herself just to show that she has as much endurance as a male sprinter. Then why should he want her to enter the hurly burly of politics when there is no possibility of her gaining anything thereby? Vote "No" on the suffrage amendment.

The most remarkable appeal to ignorance and prejudice which we have seen in a long time is a document issued by the Executive Council of the State Federation of Labor, declaring that if the new Constitution is adopted labor "will be bound and gagged." It is seriously asserted that because it contains no clause prohibiting the trial of civilians by military tribunals it will create a military despotism, that it seeks to create powerful judges without nomination or election by the people, that it does not recognize the eight hour day, on public works, that it permits the writ of habeas corpus to be suspended when invasion, rebellion or the public safety requires it, that it does not provide for minimum wages, etc. Now, without arguing these issues at all, let us point out that they will not be affected in any way whether the new Constitution is adopted or not, since the provisions and omissions objected to are the same as in the existing Constitution. The only thing in the whole appeal which really raises an issue is a denunciation of the proposed "short ballot." This is funny, since the new ballot is but a little shorter than the old one, and only to that slight extent will be an advantage or disadvantage, as the case may be. Yet this precious body of "labor leaders" advocates the defeat of a Constitution which holds forth to the wage-earner the invaluable class advantage of being pensioned if he catches an occupational disease. Polly could go but little further.

Ex-Mayor A. Wesley Thompson's long business experience in Kingston has given him a thorough understanding of the needs of the city, and how fully the public appreciated his ability was shown by his election as mayor of Kingston, in which office he served most efficiently and satisfactorily. His appointment as a member of the board of supervisors last year was an occasion of congratulation not only to the people of the Ninth Ward but to the people of the entire city. His selection as the Republican nominee for that office was a wise selection and he should receive a big majority on election day. His well known independence, his far-sighted business acumen and his wide experience with city and county affairs, acquired by experience, make him an invaluable asset which neither his ward, nor the city, nor the county can afford to lose.

Among hard working people, the candidacy of Louis Brown, the Republican and Progressive candidate for supervisor of the Sixth Ward, meets with sincere approval. Mr. Brown always has lived in the ward, where he is engaged in business. In spite of obstacles and difficulties which would discourage many men, he has persevered with true heroism. To elect him means that men appreciate the efforts of their neighbors to overcome obstacles and are willing to give whatever aid is within their power. In this instance, they can be of material assistance to Mr. Brown by giving him their vote.

John Hein, Jr., has rendered most satisfactory service in the board of supervisors and his renomination by all parties except the Democratic party in the Twelfth Ward should appeal to the voters of that party also and to all independent voters. Every one knows where Mr. Hein stands. Residents of the Twelfth Ward are proud of their ward and they are proud of Mr. Hein as their representative in the county legislature. With no axes to grind, possessing the substantial judgment of a mature years, he has shown himself amply able to represent the ward with credit to himself and his constituents. Mr. Hein is a man of unquestioned integrity and can always be depended on to do the right thing at the right time. He should be re-elected.

THE LIMIT.

(By Our Woman Editor.)

Do you ever feel that you have reached the very zenith of your accomplishments and instead of registering better work, are just standing still?

And do you stop to ask why? Is it because of human limitations or lack of further effort that the point has been reached—so far and no farther?

Some years ago a young woman enthusiastically undertook the study of languages. She worked faithfully and accomplished much, but before she was half through with the work she had outlined, her plans went all a-kilter and a halt came to her studies.

Her instructor tried to prevail upon her to sacrifice everything to her studies; assured her that all her efforts in the past would come to nothing if she dropped them, because she would lose heart if she tried to go ahead without a guide—"They always mean well when they stop, but they always grow weary and give it up."

But he didn't know his pupil, or dream of her determination. She might stop because her instructor could no longer show her the way, but—

"If she will, she will, you may depend on it."

And if she won't, she won't; so there's end on it."

And she happened to be one who would not give up.

It was not easy, but she didn't take her books in the attic to grow cobwebby from disuse, nor allow her beloved languages to become rusty from lack of practice.

And she didn't go around and around in one spot, but on and on, exchanging old books for new, old methods for better ones, meanwhile getting all the help she could from every available source.

And now? She is head instructor in a woman's college, translates as a side issue and still has no accumulated cobwebs, still she goes on getting new ones, fresher methods, and absorbing all the knowledge she can.

And that is the secret of it all. I am sadly afraid that when we stop to take our bearings, find that from year to year we simply wear old grooves deeper and deeper, without branching out into fresh channels, all the while growing more rusty and less in touch with the moving world, it is simply because we packed all our books away and are content to stand still.

We must reckon with chance, which does sometimes lift a few fortunate folk out of the commonplace and carry them along without any conscious effort of their own, but that welcome guest may never come knocking at our door, except in the guise of good, hard work.

And if today we are working away at the same old thing that consumed all our yesterday's and still do no better, know more about it, haven't even tried to jump a fence now and then, we may be sure it is because we went to work with the tools at hand, did the best we could with them, and stopped right there.

A big, wonderful mind is one of Nature's most gracious gifts. It is hard to say what approximates its value, but ambition reaches pretty close, and sometimes it seems that quite ordinary folk walk away from more brilliant ones just because they are always on the lookout for new methods, a little more knowledge and better results.

Perhaps you are proudly conscious of improvement, know that you have grown and still see some point ahead which you hope to reach, but many of us have days and days when we feel that not a step in advance has been taken. And as the years go by and we look back over the register, we wonder why we are still doing what we did so many years ago, no better, possibly no worse.

But have we tried to reach out for a new equipment? And are all the people who stand head and shoulders above us so much brainer, or have they worked harder in order to win?

It is rather dismaying and not gratifying to self to feel that someone else, given the same tools to work with, might have turned in better, higher results, might have learned more and served better.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"I'm sure I'll get all confused and mixed up when I meet your father."

"He's one of those fellows who read up on things and then come on talking about them." "Well," replied Miss Cheyenne, thoughtfully, "that beats the fellow who insists on talking about things without reading up on them."—Washington Star.

His Memory Failed.

The late James Creelman, the war correspondent, hated the "fakery." Dining with fakery editor one evening in New York Mr. Creelman said: "So Bill, now that fakery has gone out of fashion, you claim that you never faked, eh? Well, you remind me there of Uncle Pegleg. 'I'm 81 years old,' said Uncle Pegleg, solemnly in the general store, 'and I don't remember ever to have told a lie.' Well, of course, uncle," said a young farmhand, "you can't expect to have a very reliable memory at your age."—New York Times.

Small Doses.

Miss Nona McAdoo, Secretary McAdoo's daughter, related at a tea at Chevy Chase, some episodes of her Red Cross nursing in France.

"There was one poor boy," she said, "who for two months had had no solid food. Nothing but milk. He was skin and bone, nothing but skin and bone."

"At last the doctor told him that the next day he could have a meal of solid food. He rejoiced to hear that, for he was getting better now, and I suppose he looked forward to an complete, an underdone beefsteak, potatoes, Roquefort cheese and a box of strawberries."

"What he got for his first solid meal was, at any rate, a tablespoonful of tapioca. He swallowed it down, growling and grumbling, and the nurse said: 'That's all the dinner you can have, and the doctor orders that everything else must be in the same proportion.' The poor patient pushed away the canister."

Blaine's Tact.

A man long in the diplomatic service of the United States tells this story.

Blaine, who was once the guest of Edward, then Prince of Wales.

Edward had, both as prince and as king, always insisted upon showing his friendship for Americans and things American. One incident that particularly impressed the man who tells the story was that which took place at a dinner to which Blaine had been invited as the guest of the prince. It was prior to Blaine's nomination for the presidency. Knowing that the prince took special delight in honoring Americans, the other guests were generally most gracious to Blaine. The one exception was a duke of the royal house, who had a reputation for boorishness and lack of tact. During a lull in the conversation after the coffee this nobleman blurted out:

"The greatest outrage in history was the revolt of your people against King George III. There was no justification for it then and there is no justification for it now."

The prince was visibly embarrassed. Perhaps no man but Blaine could have carried off the situation. While the entire gathering sat in silence Blaine replied, in his carefully modulated voice:

"Perhaps, my dear sir, if George III had had as much diplomacy and as wide a knowledge of his people as his great grandson possesses, America might still be English."

The prince at once turned the subject to the relief of all present, but the teller of the story saw him grip Blaine's hand with a twinkle of admiration in his eye at the end of that function.—Washington Post.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, Oct. 9.—Remember the date of the pie supper, October 16. The Dramatic Society of Broadheads will present the play recently given in the Baptist Church at West Shokan, entitled, "Chums." All come and enjoy this entertainment before eating the pie. The ladies of Samsonville are noted pie makers and this promises to be the event of the season.

Genevieve Moore has been visiting her friend, Lena Smith, at West Shokan.

Mrs. E. Schoonmaker and friend of Kerhonkson called in this place on business Wednesday.

W. G. Moore and family attended the party at West Shokan Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. H. Beaver spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. R. S. Bardin, at Accord Hill.

Mrs. E. P. Davis of Tonawanda visited her father, Virgil Shurtler, one day the past week.

Mrs. O. Peterson is making extensive repairs at her summer residence in this place.

Several relatives from this place attended the funeral of Mrs. Everett Krum at Krumville on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. Klein and daughter, Leona, of New Jersey, who are stopping at Fellman's Rest at Palen-town, attended church here on Sunday. Their many friends were glad to see them with us again.

M. H. Shultis and son, Roland, of Wittenberg, were in this place on Thursday.

Come to the rally day service in the Sunday school on October 24, at 2:30.

William and Mary--William of Orange, Mary of England

UPON the accession of William and Mary to the English throne a new element became fused with the principles of furniture design and construction as they were then in vogue in England.

This meant a mingling of the English with the Dutch, producing a most agreeable harmony in design and an unquestioned sturdiness of construction—the latter an essential attribute of both peoples.

The William and Mary bedroom suite pictured here is one we selected from the offerings in the Paris of good furniture—Grand Rapids, Michigan.

To our discriminating customers to whom the charms of this furniture appeal, we assure unprecedented good value at a most reasonable figure. Permit us the privilege of showing it to you.

LIFE IN ARABIA.

Interesting Speakers at the First Dutch Church Tomorrow.

At the morning service of the First Dutch Church tomorrow an address will be made by Dr. Eleanor Taylor Calverley from Arabia and in the evening a lecture illustrated by the stereopticon will be given in the chapel by Dr. Edwin E. Calverley. On this account the usual vesper service will not be held.

Mrs. Calverley before enlisting as a missionary graduated in medicine from the Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia. She is a beautiful and accomplished woman and her story so timely and interesting she delivers with great effectiveness. She has charge of the hospital at Kuwait, Arabia, and is the first white woman the natives of that region ever saw. It was a long time before the natives would accept the service of a physician, but so thoroughly has confidence been established that during the eight months previous to her return 3,000 patients were treated in this institution.

Mrs. Calverley addressed the General Synod of the Reformed Church at its recent session at Asbury Park. At the conclusion of her address the Rev. Dr. Fagg arose and announced that this beautiful woman of culture had been living for several years in a native hut but that an effort was now being made to raise funds to build a modern dwelling house for her use with a dispensary attached. He believed the people of the Reformed Church did not wish that any person of such culture sent abroad to represent them should make such a sacrifice, impeding her health and usefulness, and that he would subscribe $25 for this fund. Thereupon cupation and show what a great opportunity is about to open for the spread of the Gospel under the British flag, which is now waving in the regions near to Bagdad.

The Arabian Mission of which the Rev. and Mrs. Calverley are the representatives was founded by Drs.

DR. CALVERLEY.

Cantine and Zwemer twenty-five years ago. The hospitals of this mission reach annually 35,000 patients which is half as many Muslims as make annual pilgrimage to Mecca.

To one of these hospitals an Arab father brought his son, who was suffering from hydrocephalus, the water accumulated in the membrane of the brain having produced ensued a scene which has been seldom equalled in the General Synod. A burst of enthusiasm swept over the audience, during which many persons arose to their feet, subscribing amounts from $5 to $100. Then came more subscriptions and these persons writing on the cards the amount of their subscriptions presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Calverley, who stood near the altar. The sum of these subscriptions was about $1,300.

Arabia is the region traversed and conquered by the British recently, many of whose wounded were treated by the missionary hospitals, among them many from the royal household, one of whom presented Mrs. Calverley with the beautiful Arab costume which she wears when delivering her addresses.

Mr. Calverley will show pictures illustrating the country, the people and the conditions of life in Arabia. He will tell also of the British ocidiotcy. There seemed but one chance, and that a faint one to effect a cure, by inserting a drain in the head and drawing off the water. The patient was in the care of Dr. Harrison, who was one of the speakers at the Arabian mass meeting recently held in the First Dutch Church. Dr. Harrison is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore. Dr. Harrison suggested that the father of the boy have the drain taken from his arm. Thus he refused to do fearing that was to be cut up. "Oh, let the boy die!" he said.

Finding the father obstinate, Dr. Harrison took the drain from his own arm and proceeded with the operation. Eventually the boy died, but the operation and the doctor's sacrifice spread broadcast over the region and inspired awe on the part of the natives, whose religion does not teach them to suffer in order to relieve the ills of others.

BCSY LIAR'S WORK.
Annoying Statements Circulated About a Popular Young Man.

Some malicious person who is mailing typewritten letters and postals in New York city signed with a fictitious name is taking a great deal of trouble to annoy Mr. Gaudet, the popular and efficient agent of the West Shore railway at Ulster Park. One of these efforts succeeded with The Freeman a few days ago when an item was printed to the effect that Mr. Gaudet had been called to service in the army in Canada. The statement was untrue and Ulster Park people, who would be sorry to lose the services of Mr. Gaudet will be greatly pleased to know that there is no reason for his departure.

Lutheran Conference Held.
The annual meeting of the Albany Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of New York was held in the Trinity Lutheran Church at Castleton, N. Y., October 4-5. The following officers were unanimously re-elected: Rev. A. Schmidt, pastor of this city; president; Rev. C. M. Gueland, Castleton, secretary; and George Bohrer, Poughkeepsie, treasurer. Three business sessions were held. At the devotional service on Tuesday evening sermons were delivered by Rev. H. Neumann, New Bedford, Mass., and Rev. P. Kasten, Watertown, N. Y. After the service the societies of the church gave a reception to the pastors and delegates of the conference. Jacob Schantz attended the meeting as delegate of the Spring Street German Lutheran Church. The next annual meeting of the conference will be held in Kingston, in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church.

Remember the "Spooks."
In planning for your Columbus Day celebration, don't fail to make a place for the very clever entertainment which the young people of the Westminster Guild and the Ushers' Club of the Rondout Presbyterian Church are to give on Tuesday evening next. The Halloween ghosts will all be there.

Boat Stolen.
It has been reported to the police that a new flat bottomed boat, painted light gray, was stolen from the George Peliz place at Kingston Point on Wednesday night.

OLD GUARD HAS ORGANIZED

With a large and enthusiastic attendance at the army Friday evening the Old Guard of Ulster County was formally launched with a charter membership that has some of the most prominent and public-spirited men of Ulster county enrolled. It is hoped that every man who has received an honorable discharge from any of the former duly organized military commands of Ulster county and from the army and navy will affiliate with this newly formed military organization, or the Old Guard of Ulster County, as it will be known, according to its charter.

According to the by-laws which were adopted Friday night the object of the Old Guard is to foster military spirit among the young men of this county, which will restore the military spirit which is fast fading away in this country. One of the speakers told how it was up to Kingston to start something and according to his vision he can see similar organizations springing up in different parts of the state, which will spread to other states making it a nation-wide movement, and when it came down to facts it could be said that Kingston aroused the military spirit of this country.

By arousing the military spirit in the young men it will directly help the present Company M to be always recruited to its full strength and when the young men of this city witness the monster parade which will be held on Tuesday evening, October 19, and see the line of men who have at some time been members of the guard, they will take the obligation and serve their country by joining the guard.

The newly elected commandant, B. J. Hornbeck, requests that every member of the Old Guard do his utmost and bring brother comrades to the armory on Tuesday, October 19, so that they can be taken into membership and swell the ranks in parade. The annual dues of the Old Guard has been placed at fifty cents so that it is in reach of every comrade to take membership. In the ranks on the night of the parade there should be at least 500 comrades, who will be escorted by Company M and a band of thirty pieces.

Following the parade a mammoth smoker will be held at the armory for members of the Old Guard and Company M. By the personnel of the smoker committee the men are already guaranteed a good time. Commandant Hornbeck appointed on such committee Major Chandler, chairman; Captain Everett Fowler, Sergeant W. G. Merritt, Sergeant R. C. Dittus and Corporal William Cohen.

At the meeting Friday night Captain Frank Meagher acted as temporary chairman and stated the object of the meeting. Rousing speeches that were heartily applauded were made by Judge John G. Van Etten, Major George F. Chandler, Captain Frank Fowler and Captain John and E. Snyder.

The following officers were elected: Commandant, B. J. Hornbeck; vice commandant, J. Allan Wood; secretary, William G. Merritt; treasurer, Frank W. Brooks. Executive committee, Charles A. Schermerhorn, Joseph M. Fowler, John G. Van Etten, G. Fred Diamond, S. K. Winchell. Committee on by-laws, Henry R. DeWitt, Ashly W. Cooper, George A. Winter, Robert Herdman, B. J. Hornbeck.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

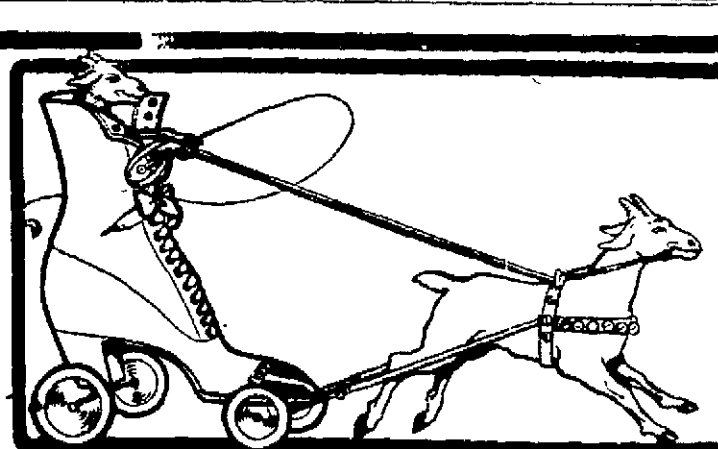

1387.—A Pretty Shirt Waist.—Ladies' Tucked Shirt Waist, With Yoke and Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

White batiste is here shown. The style is good for crepe, ratine, organdie, lawn, for taffeta, tub silk, or pique. It is a pretty style with the new cross tucks. The sleeve may be finished in wrist or elbow length. The neck opening is cool and comfortable, with tiny reverse fronts and rolled collar. The yoke is also new, and the full fronts and back make this style ideal for slight figures. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34, 35, 36, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

QUAKER TIRES

Prove by speedometer tests that they give maximum mileage—records of 8,000, 10,000, 12,000, 15,000 miles are frequently reported. Optimistic Thought.

The wise man does nothing for the purpose of being well thought of, but practices virtue for its own sake.

A DETERMINED WOMAN.

Finally Found a Food that Helped Her.

"When I first read of the remarkable effects of Grape-Nuts food, I determined to secure some," says a Mo. woman. "At that time there was none kept in this town, but my husband ordered some from a commercial traveler.

"I had been greatly afflicted with sudden attacks of cramps, nausea, and vomiting. Tried all sorts of remedies and physicians but obtained only temporary relief. As soon as I began to use Grape-Nuts the cramps disappeared and have never returned.

"My old attacks of sick stomach were a little slower to yield, but by continuing the food, that trouble has disappeared entirely. I am today perfectly well, can eat anything and everything I wish, without paying the penalty that I used to. We would not keep house without Grape-Nuts.

"My husband was so delighted with the benefits I received that he has been recommending Grape-Nuts to his customers and has built up a very large trade on the food. He sells it to many of the leading physicians of the county, who recommend Grape-Nuts very generally. There is some satisfaction in using a really scientifically prepared food."

A Beautiful Display.

A most unusual and beautiful sight is being displayed in the show window of Herzog's wall paper store in the form of a wall paper hanging priced at $20 per roll. It is a design known as "The Birge Peacock" and is composed of 153 colors, each one being printed by hand. As an inspiration the inception dates back to prehistoric days, for it was Solomon himself who brought the peacock into Palestine and the ancient Greeks and Romans held the richest plumage bird sacred to Juno while the Epicureans esteemed its flesh a particular dainty, for we are told that Quintus Hortensius (who was born 119 B. C.), served peacocks to his guests at the great feast which he gave in celebration of his proud entry into office as Argus.

Wawarsing Republican Ticket.

The Republicans of the town of Wawarsing held their town caucus at the Mitchell House at Ellenville on Thursday evening and nominated a full ticket. Jacob M. Hornbeck was chairman of the caucus and Cleon B. Murray was secretary. The nominations were as follows: Supervisor, W. Kelly Shook; town superintendent, Moses Ostrander; town clerk, Edwin J. Bailey; collector, Elmer Beesemer; assessor, Cornelius R. Bunting; justices of the peace, Daniel Fitzgerald and William Van Demark; overseers of the poor, Thomas M. Van Deusen and DuBois Schoonmaker; constables, John M. Porter, Charles C. Clark, William Geary, Elias E. Miller, John Beilman; school director, Henry J. Shurtler.

Annual Turkey Dinner.

The annual turkey dinner of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmwood street, will be given in the church parlor Wednesday evening, November 19. The service will be better than in former years, as arrangements have been made to seat 30 more than usual at the first tables.

To Vote on Local Option.

Seven towns have filed petitions in the office of the county clerk and will vote on local option at the general election. The towns which have filed petitions are: Ford, New Palis, Olive, Marlborough, Esopus, Shandaken and Hurley.

GENERAL ELECTRIC MAKES STATEMENT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Schenectady, Oct. 9.—General Manager George Simmons of the General Electric Company today gave out a statement covering a conference he had with the grievance committee representing the striking employees.

It is plain that the General Electric Company intends to continue to adhere to its policy adopted at the beginning of the strike. At the conference today Mr. Simmons stated to the committee that waited upon him that a statement as to the attitude of the General Electric Company was due those on strike, particularly as unwarranted misleading representations had been made by unauthorized persons. He stated that the General Electric Company had not changed its attitude as regards an eight hour day and although the proposition he had made in behalf of the company to the grievance committee last week was rejected, he is willing to recommend a renewal of it provided he receives the assurance that if the offer is received it will be accepted.

Before Mr. Simmons will take any further step it will be necessary for him to hear from the various unions to which his proposition will be submitted today and which unions will either accept or reject.

Bannon Gets Rg Contract.

Probably the largest heating contract ever secured by a Kingston firm is that awarded the L. E. Bannon Company of Clatsop avenue to install a heating system in St. Mary's Home, which is being erected at Kingston, N. Y. The building is 185 feet long and 222 feet deep with two wings. The contract calls for the installation of 358 radiators and 11,872 feet of radiator and three of the largest sectional boilers manufactured, and also a garbage incinerating plant and hot water system for domestic use with a 2,200 gallon tank. The firm has a large force of men at work on the contract, and all of the workmen are from Kingston.

Fighting in Garden of Eden.

London, Oct. 9.—Hard fighting between British soldiers and Turks is in progress in the Garden of Eden. Upon the banks of the Euphrates in Mesopotamia, where, according to Biblical history, Adam was lured by Eve to eat the apple, the English troops are fighting for control of the new Turkish railway line. Gunboats in the Euphrates are constantly shelling the land positions of the Turks.

GROVER CLEVELAND
ALEXANDER

HOPE OF THE PHILLIES IN WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP RACE.

The hopes of the Phillies in the world's series with the Red Sox are reposing largely in the good pitching arm of one Grover Cleveland Alexander, who is hailed as the greatest pitcher in the game today.

This season Alexander pitched 48 games and has an average of .175. He won 30 of his games and lost but 10.

Alexander is twenty-six years old and first saw the light of day at St. Paul, Neb. In 1909 he joined the Galesburg, Michigan League, team and was drafted that fall by the Indianapolis club to the American Association, but was turned over to Syracuse, New York State League, without a trial. He made good with a vengeance at Syracuse, yet the Phillies got him the next season for $5,000. From the time of his entrance into the big league until the present he has been one of the stars of the game.

Pretty Good Sort of Man.

If a man has a reasonable amount of diligence is willing to take square with his neighbors and help along his bettering comrades on the way, and has courage and philosophy enough to endure a fair amount of trouble without heaving about it all the time, he is pretty apt to make the schedule through this vale of tears without destroying the plan of salvation.—Houston Post.

Sure of One Thing.

The Town Council of a thriving Scotch burg recently acquired a plane for their town hall, and appointed three of their number to inspect and report on the purchase. The councilors were not musical experts, but one a jolter-headed down and applying his eye to the several corners of the instrument, remarked: "I'm not judge a music, but I'll warrant y' a 'the boards are plumb."

MAXIM'S MACHINE GUN.

A Terrible Engine of Death Which Works Automatically.

Early in the history Maxim showed himself a marvelous genius as an inventor. An incident of his boyhood, in which the recoil of a rifle attracted his attention to an apparent loss of power, led him in 1881-2 to utilize the force of the recoil to good account in a gun which loads itself automatically and fires at the rate of 770 shots a minute by the power of the previously wasted force.

The Maxim machine gun is an engine of terrible destruction. This gun has only a single barrel, which, when the shot is fired, recoils the distance of three-quarters of an inch in the other parts of the gun. This recoil sets moving the machinery which automatically loads up a continuous line of the extraordinary rate of twelve rounds a second.

Each round of the barrel has therefore to perform the necessary functions of extracting and ejecting the empty cartridge, of bringing up the next full one and placing it in its proper position in the barrel, of cocking the hammer and pulling the trigger.

As long as the firing continues these functions are repeated round after round in rapid succession. The barrel is provided with a water jacket to prevent excessive heating.—Philadelphia Press.

GOING ROUND THE WORLD.

The Gain or Loss of One Whole Day in Making the Trip.

In sailing around the world eastward the days are each a little less than twenty-four hours, according to the speed of the ship, as the sun is met a little earlier every morning. These little differences added together will amount to twenty-four hours. This gives the sailors an extra day—not in imagination, but as an actual fact. They will have done an extra day's work, eaten an extra day's ration of food and enjoyed an extra night's sleep.

On the other hand, in sailing westward the sun is overtaken a little each day, and so each day is rather longer than twenty-four hours, and clocks and watches are found to be too fast. This also will amount in sailing around the world to the point of departure to one whole day by which the reckoning has fallen in arrears. The eastern bound ship, then, has gained a day, and the western bound ship has lost one.

This strange fact, clearly worked out, leads to the apparent paradox that the first named ship has a gain of two whole days over the latter, if we suppose them to have departed from port and returned together.—Westminster Gazette.

Woolen Shroud Compulsory.

It used to be compulsory in England that the dead should be buried in woolen shrouds. This law was introduced in order to encourage the manufacture of woolen cloth within the kingdom.

ITALIAN 75 MM BATTERY IN THE ALPS.

THE WAR IN THE CLOUDS.

This remarkable and beautiful picture of an Italian 75 millimeter gun battery, was made high up in the Alps. In the distance is seen one of the lofty mountain peaks, partially covered by snow, while a cloud hovers about the top. Recent dispatches from Italy say that the Italians stationed in the Alps all winter. Many different posts will be garrisoned a main there until spring. Communication will be difficult and the army units. Many charities in Italy are collecting book and other reading matter for the men who will garrison these lonely posts during the winter.

To Destroy Ants.

Ants that frequent houses or gardens may be destroyed by flour or brimstone (half a pound) and potash (four ounces). Put in an iron or earthen dish over the fire until dissolved and melted. Afterward beat to a powder and infuse a little of this powder in water and wherever you sprinkle it the ants will fly the place.

Easily Digested.

According to careful laboratory experiments, white flour is more easily digested, but whole wheat and gram flour have a greater amount of protein. Whole flour yields 1.150 calories. The best bread flour is that which takes the greatest amount of moisture and the best pastry flour that which takes the least.

Grammar.

Grammar is the science, or art, of correct speech. It is quite true that some people are able to speak and write correctly without having studied the rules as laid down in grammar, but it is none the less true that but for a knowledge of the rules the majority of people would write and speak in a most barbarous fashion.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke).

Two years a major leaguer—and twice a participant in the world series divvies. That's the record of Oscar Duguey, substitute infielder for the Phillies, and a record which earns for him the distinction of being the very luckiest youth that ever broke into baseball.

Duguey came up from the minors in the springtime of 1914 and a glance at his major league record since then makes one wonder how he has been able to linger in fast company. Duguey was 19 years old when he joined the Braves last spring. He showed nothing startling in a baseball way—but he was earnest and hardworking. So Stallings, instead of sending him back to the Waco (Texas) club, where he played in 1913, decided to let him linger around.

Poor Showing With Braves.

Duguey's 1914 record shows that he hit for 153 in 58 games with the Braves—a miserable record. His fielding average was under .500—another awful showing. Yet the Duguey luck kept him on the Braves roster right through the 1914 season and Duguey got as big a slice of the world series melon as did Hank Gowdy and the other Boston heroes, although Duguey didn't play in any one of the four games.

In the winter of 1914-15 Stallings put through a trade with the Phillies—and when he did it he grasped a chance to unload excess baggage on the Phillies. He gave them Duguey as the "to boot" part of the bargain.

Duguey wasn't keen about going to the Phillies. Why should he have been? The Braves looked good to the Phillies well, they looked good enough to push the bottom out of the National League—just that and nothing more. But with Duguey it was a case of 90 to the Phillies or back to the minors.

And what has happened? Oh Duguey is on the roster of the pennant winning Phillies. Duguey who has fielded in only a mediocre manner, who has batted only around .200 and has worked in only a few games will get as big a share of the world series spoils as will Grover Alexander.

The Story of Beals Becker. Rivaling Duguey to a certain extent, in the matter of luck is one Beals Becker, an outfielding person employed by the Phillies. Becker got the chance to show his hand into the world series dough-bag because he muffed a fly ball. If he hadn't made the error the chances are he'd never have been with the Phillies today.

Becker, after participating in two world series spots, went with the Giants, was traded to the Cincinnati Reds in 1913. Becker didn't make a bit with Joe Tinker, then manager of the Reds, and when Becker fooled a line drive one day, Tinker had enough of Beals Becker. Just about as soon as he could put the deal through by wire he traded Becker to the club that is battling now for the highest honors in baseball and, incidentally, for the large end of the world series purse.

What He Thinks Remarkable.

"Do you think there is anything remarkable in love at first sight?" asked the romantic youth. "Not at all!" answered the cynic. "It's when people have been looking at each other for four or five years that it becomes remarkable."—Pearson's Weekly.

Y.M.C.A. LEAGUE SCORE NOW 118

The second of the series of "games" in the big membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. closed on Friday evening and the total scores showed that fifty-nine members had been secured, of which number forty were in the senior department and nineteen in the boys' department. This makes a total of 118 members secured so far this month. The "games" now being played will be brought to a close on Monday evening at which time it is expected that a still further increase will be shown in the number of members secured.

DR. NEWO NEWI.

HEAD OF NEW RELIGION HELD FOR FRAUD—MANY NOTABLES SAID TO BE AMONG HIS FOLLOWERS.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—Dr. Newo Newi, head and founder of the "Newoth" religious cult, who is said to number among his followers such notables as the Czarina of Russia, Miss Sarah Bernhardt, Princess George of Greece and the Countess of Warwick, has been arrested and is now being held, charged with fraud and swindling. The federal authorities are investigating the career of Dr. Newi, who was arrested at the instance of a woman, whom he is said to have killed for another.

Success of Y. M. C. A. Fair. While the complete returns have not been received from the various committees of the annual fair of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., held recently at the association, the returns so far received show that the net amount cleared amounts to $500.62. It is hoped that all committees who have not reported as yet will make returns to Mrs. A. C. Gates, the treasurer, as soon as possible so that the total amount cleared at the fair may be known.

TALK TO THOUSANDS.

Conventions are held to enable many people to get together and exchange views for the purpose of mutual aid. That is the way that the great movements of the world have succeeded—by getting together and talking things over. You can talk to thousands and tell them of your Wants and needs and get assistance from a hundred different quarters by using the Freeman Want Ads. Whenever you insert a Freeman Want Ad in the newspaper you are addressing thousands of Want Ad readers and users, all eager to help and be helped. Talk to thousands through the Freeman Want Columns.

ADVERTISERS ESTIMATE THE VALUE BY THE CIRCULATION. And The Freeman has a circulation double that of all other Kingston dailies combined.

"Preparedness"

This word has loomed large in the news of the last year. It has frequently been linked with another vital word—"SUCCESS."

It is an important word to the business man—a word that robs competition of its terrors.

"Preparedness" includes a definite expenditure for advertising to intrench the business or product in public good will. It means the kind of "business insurance" advertising brings.

This newspaper will be very glad to discuss with any business man this phase of "business preparedness."
